

Business Education: The Digital Perspective for Skill Acquisitions in the Business World for Sustainable Development

Bagudu Ahmad Ibrahim Ph.D.,

Department of Office Technology and Management, Federal Polytechnic, Bali, P.M.B 05 Bali, Taraba State, Nigeria

Abstract:

Business education as an aspect of larger educational system comprises a variety of teaching and learning outcomes that are intended to provide digital skills for personal business or career in the business world. The trust of this paper is to explore Business Education: The Digital Perspective for Skill Acquisitions in the Business World for Sustainable Development which was meant to clarify the conceptual analysis of business education, digital skill acquisitions, the business world and sustainable development. This research adopted a qualitative approach to examine the issues and strategies in the world of business as it explore the concepts, its benefits and importance for sustainable development. The paper makes comprehensive analyses and review of relevant academic articles and scholarly publications tangent to business education and the digital perspective to provide insights into the current digital skills acquisition in a business world for sustainable development. Finally, the paper draws recommendation and conclusion on the key concepts associated with the topic.

Keywords:

Business Education, Digital perspective, Skills Acquisitions, World of Business, Sustainable Development.